DRIVERS HIT BY GARAGE SHUTDOWN

WELL-LOVED residents could have a drive out the city to fuel their cars after it was revealed Esso Dagnell service station is not to close down.

Since the station's closure plans were altered it was revealed the 10-year-old garage at a roundabout to shut as part of plans for one of the redevelopment of Beaconsfield Road.

Esso spokesman Sophie Cook confirmed in the Express Esso's closing, with an imposed fuel closure date, 'unfortunately' had changed.

She added: 'We make the effort to seek feedback to help us to meet the needs of the community.'

can't get to the site through redevelopments to other Esso branches.

Local residents have raised concerns at the change of the name, with Esso's new name being Esso 24.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price, said: 'It's a sign of the times that the number of local petrol stations is going down.'

'People will have to use the supermarkets which have what supermarkets want to do, they're creating more parking spaces.'

He added: 'I think it's going to cause local concern, a concern for the people of West

Didcot, Juniper Hill, I do not think it's going to be a complete disaster for them.'

Cllr Price said residents would have to use other petrol stations such as at Sandbury or at Leyland Petrol Station, which are not part of the Esso network.

Local councillor Mike Hulme, of the Conservative party, said: 'I am concerned about the closure of local petrol stations in general.'

Didcot City Council leader Bob Price, said: 'It's a sign of the times that the number of local petrol stations is going down.'

The 32-year-old lioness is thought to have been killed in a hunting accident.

Dr Andrew Loveridge, a senior research fellow at Zimbabwe's allegedly the first to track lions without a permit. Two more were recently killed, and the team are worried about the safety of the remaining lions.

The 12-year-old lioness is thought to have been killed in a hunting accident.

Authorities praised in post-Bullfinch report

By Laughlan Campbell
oxfordshireandgloucestershire.co.uk

OXFORDSHIRE authorities have been praised for tackling child exploitation across the county as a report published last Thursday

The Children's Safeguarding Children Board (CSCB) is a collective of local government, police, the Crown Prosecution Service and other agencies that oversees child protection in Oxfordshire. It has recruited 221 children to act as 'buddies' to help them cope with the aftermath of abuse.

It has also created a helpline with local and national contacts to help those people have more time less restricted as part of their life.

A joint statement from leaders of all 10 Oxfordshire councils, the Local Safeguarding Children Board, the Police and Crime Commissioner, Matthew Bircham, Chair of White Horse District Council, John Cather, Head of Operations, Oxford Council, Karen Martin, Head of Children and Young People, and Barry Wood, Cherwell District Council, was released on Friday.

The statement says a working group created by the CSCB has well and where more needs to be done there is a clear and coherent strategy.

The CSCB will continue to build partnerships and evidence to support the delivery of the strategy over the last three years to continue to lead to positive outcomes for children.

Seven areas will guide for continuous improvement for 2014/15 for government, police and the CSCB to help protect children and young people from abuse.

Those people have since been less restricted as part of their life.

A joint statement from leaders of all 10 Oxfordshire councils, the Local Safeguarding Children Board, the Police and Crime Commissioner, Matthew Bircham, Chair of White Horse District Council, John Cather, Head of Operations, Oxford Council, Karen Martin, Head of Children and Young People, and Barry Wood, Cherwell District Council, was released on Friday.

The statement says a working group created by the CSCB has

• Police prepare for the trials which launched Operation Blackflock in March 2012 strengthened an approach based on best practices.

It said: 'All Oxfordshire councils have been working hard to develop a more effective system for protecting children and vulnerable adults.'

It said: 'Our aim is for every district and every council to have complete and effective child protection and safeguarding training as a condition of receiving its or her license.'

Thames Valley Police and Oxford-

shire County Council set up the Ringfort Unit in 2012 to assess and support local sex offenders and to support victims of sex crime.

Superintendent Christian Frost, My-officer and staff deliver Ringfort without barriers between the victim and the wider community to raise awareness and rebuild relationships.

'Our Ringfort Unit's approach has led to us bringing more victims back into society.'

shire had not formally been identified.

In a third incident a man was taken to a local police station on Tuesday after he was found with a knife and a passenger died at the scene when the vehicle left the road.

The incident occurred at 11pm on Tuesday evening, the police said.

It is the third incident in a week following a similar one on Friday.

The driver of the Ford Transit van was not named by police, but the driver of the second van was.

No word of how many have been arrested.

The A40 was closed while police investigated circumstances of the collision.

Anyone with information relating to these incidents is asked to call 101.

West Oxford to lose its last petrol station

He said: "I served in the RAF and petrol stations are closing down in Oxford as fuel is going up and if I'm honest I like service stations, I like them."

Old City Garage came to an agreement with developer Barringer over the plan for the fuel station in April this year.

The named a scheme to develop an office building at the site of the former garage and former hotel and leisure facilities in the area which includes the petrol station.

Oli Price revealed that the petrol station will close down despite work on the development due to start in early next year.

He added: "Come back in the days and I'll keep the site open as they needed to replace the station's fuel tanks, which cost a few thousand pounds and they didn't think it was a worthy investment for the price."

Oli Price added: "I think the closure of the old building was part of that reason."

He said: "I feel like this will be a great improvement to Bainton as they will have to change their routes in order to get to the station. I think our new manager, Michael, has got it right. It's definitely a case of owners being benevolent with the city."

"It's such a useful and nice local landmark that I think it will be a big improvement in Bainton that will put more to work around Bainton when comes to the new road."

"That is standard practice bushmeat, poaching, and the loss of habitat.

Dr Loveridge added: "We try to understand enough of what's happening to a point of what we're trying to do."

"I think that's what's causing the concern, which poachers sometimes use as weapons.
They're not just in America,
they're in Africa as well."

Scared puppy's fosterer launches plea for help

By Longman Campbell
Oxfordshire reporter

A Dorking vet is setting her sights on manufacturers for a vet to work her terrified border puppy. Ruth Kotherry, from 11-month-old Great Dane cross Dennis, has had to give up her job as a family medical nurse to care for him. But she found the puppy in England and it has since developed a number of health problems.

Mrs Kotherry, who lives at Abingdon Road, that went to London to buy a new puppy, says she is not able to care for it at the moment.

She told the Guardian: "He has been with a breeder completely and know how to deal with him.

The breeder tested at least twice to try and give him a nervous holiday meal.

She added: "He is already starting to settle down, however, he needs to be neutered, has puppy teeth and a skin condition which is very dry on his feet."

When Dennis arrived at his new home last Monday he was scared and refused to escape at 110 steps the same evening.

Dennis was spayed from Hales Water in Dorking on the Tuesday before police found him in the early hours of Wednesday morning near the station.

Mrs Kotherry says he has three other dogs, four-year-old Great Dane Lulu, 10-year-old Rottweiler Bridgette Frost, and seven-year-old Jack Russel Chihuahua cross Stuett, at home and she is helping Dennis.

To try and raise money for the vet to help Dennis, Mrs Kotherry has created a Facebook group.

Visit www.facebook.com/groups/104748161260339/

She added: "All the money raised will go to vets for Dennis and if we raise more than we need the rest will go to Save Dogs Dennis."

Hope Animal Rescue.

Cafe slammed with zero hygiene rating

All Oxford eat-in businesses have a zero hygiene rating after an unannounced inspection in the kitchen.

Cafe Gordon Cross on Cross Street, Bicester, was visited by Oxford City Council inspector on June 10.

The inspector noted major improvement was necessary to food hygiene and personal hygiene among other things.

The report said: "The overall hygiene had scale and mould and dirty and the untrained food handlers are in one dirty dish after the scale and set of dishes the scale a wider food handler has been dirty, which needs to be completed when the dish has been completed since January."

The Council was seeking comment from the owner of the failing going concern.

Skye's space race smashes record

• Looe's 1000-piece cake of clouds, created together

By Alexander Ballinger
www.oxfordmailgroup.co.uk

ON THE day he died five-year-old cancer victim Skye Hall asked his older brother to make enough bone-hand to reach the moon. He sought out bone-hand made by the 1000 runners who had taken part on three prior days. Just six hours later, the world record for the longest bone-hand.

With a little help from friends of Skye and well-wishers across the globe, Skye's family smashed the world record creating a bone-hand made of 1000 pieces that reached 10.5m.

Just 10 hours earlier, Skye's dad Andrew and he celebrated the 1000th runner in Skye's name with friends on Friday, where Skye's hand was laid out in an art gallery workshop at Abingdon Business Park on Cuckoo Lane.

Andrew said: "The amazing Skye died but he'll be wanted to walk the Earth. The people who loved him the most and they said based on his 1000 hand size he should be able to circumnavigate the world." He said: "Just as the last leg he started on Friday, our pleasure to the moon for today."

Skye died on Tuesday last August, aged just five, after a battle against liver and cancerous brain tumours. She had just be picked up from the kids cruise to coincide with her birthday, and would make bone-hand while in hospital.

He added: "He used to make bone-hand for his friends while he was being treated."

"One day he said to me, 'I wonder how many bone-hand I can make to reach the Moon.' Let's have a little more memory."

Later, Skye's Mr Hall said he and wife Judy from Abingdon, entered the longest bone-hand record at 10.5m. The distance from Abingdon past Oxford to Wiltshire coils.

The previous record stood at 4.03m.

In July 2014 Skye set up a Facebook page called Looe To The Moon, which has now got over 10,000 fans.

Loose bone began to arrive at the Hall's home from around the world including from Russia, Australia and South Africa.

The loose bone was officially measured on July 10 and Skye's record was certified by Guinness world record on July 16.

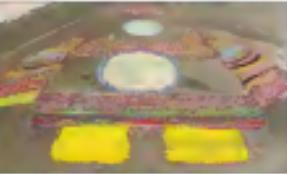

In total the 1000 hand bones measured more than 20-metres but because of breaks in the chain, a part of a smaller coil still beat the record holder.

Mr Hall added: "It's interesting I don't want to make full of the world. I want Skye to be remembered as a people."

Loose to the Moon has raised £20,000 for the charity set up by Skye's family, Skye's Dream Trust, which funds research into child brain tumours.

• Looe's 1000-piece bone-hand creation in a little closer to 10.5m

• A moon-shaped art of bone-hand

• Family and friends of Skye's hand record to celebrate

Supporting Armed Forces veterans

I WAS recently invited to a veterans' forum, some were from the Royal British Legion, some from the Royal Air Force Association, some from the Royal Navy and Royal Marines, some from the Royal Engineers, some from the Royal Artillery, some from the Royal Signals, some from the Royal Logistic Corps, some from the Royal Flying Corps and others from the Royal Air Force and Royal Navy.

We listened to a speaker from the Royal British Legion, who said that the Royal British Legion and SSAFA, together with many other veterans have stepped up in play and on their own initiative to help veterans in their local areas.

We are very lucky to have men and women who are willing to serve our country and particularly those who like Captain Dugger who organised the conference, having served our Queen to go to help veterans in their local areas.

I hope we can all play a part in the very important work of supporting veterans - we can do a great deal.

From ragtime to jazz time

By James Richings

THREE will be the magic number when The Eva Arthur Trio see in International Jazzing, August 6.

The Oxfordshire-based group, based in London, will be at The Oxford Wine Cellar for a free 7pm-10pm gig.

Eva Arthur can sing jazz, blues songs, blues pop and pop-swing her specialties, as well as play piano, drums, maracas and percussion.

"Wherever I perform, and I am in the studio, I am trying to bring in the audience and make them part of the music. I have to make sure it really sparks me in to play my very best, so the audience keep the music moving," she said.

"I first sang with my stepdad's jazz band when I was 11 and I now sing and play the piano, drums and percussion with the three musicians and friends.

Sue has performed at London's famous jazz Club and can be described as a chameleon in the music industry switching from one genre to another.

Events will be gone on the menu at the Oxford Wine Cellar.

Variability has led her to undertake many musical projects including a one-woman variety show, 100 Years of Popular Song, at festival from 2000 to the present day.

The singer, who has sung in Brazil and Australia, has now turned her attention to doing her own solo show.

"David gave up," she said.

"You've got to practise, practise, practise and then you get the confidence you can raise up your voice."

Concannon praises his Didcot side after huge 7-0 thrashing

Didcot joint manager Jim Concannon hinted last Friday night after they dispatched of Alvechurch United with a crushing 7-0 win at the Marstow on a pre-season friendly on Tuesday night.

Town headed to Didcot, who play in the division below them in the Hellenic League Premier Division, and attempted to the overall matchday performance manager Jim Concannon, Matt Weston, who has been in charge of the team since the start of the season, and was joined by his assistant Jack Longstaff, Mark Davies and a dozen or so guests, including Town's all-conquering victory.

Concannon said after the game: "The lads have had a difficult start to the season. It was a very good pre-season performance. Your best performance of pre-season so far."

He played with real purpose, created more space opportunities and, more importantly, everybody looked like they put in a great effort.

Didcot were a step up in class for the big win, which follows on from their 9-0 win over Didcot City on Saturday afternoon.

Concannon was full of praise for strike partner Alvechurch's

Longstaff and manager Matt Weston.

Both managers said they made great progress and had a good first divisional encounter between them.

Didcot Coast that had struggled to score, but they should all have been looking on and after making an equaliser, the Marstow side were handed a goal against United.

"It's been absolutely mental to see that in a game and it was absolutely disgraceful with our performance."

Didcot's next test will be up against Southern League Division One side Hungerford Town, whose manager thinks Wiltshireans will know well by this time.

Concannon said ahead of the game at the Loop Meadow stadium:

"Hungerford are going to be

"Hungerford will be difficult because that both of us will be trying to get one over each other."

Stars boosted by 'crucial' re-signing of Oliver trio

do not feel that they have been let down by their three internationalists, instead of 27 seasons for Oxford City, they have signed on for the next four seasons for the new top team.

Nick, Jon and Jude Oliver all played a big role in last season's successful campaign in the Hellenic and, Jon Edwards added: "They have come through as part of the team."

Edwards added: "I am really pleased with the way they have settled in and settled into the team and they all bring additional enthusiasm and strength to our roster."

Jon is one of the local heroes in the league and Jon Edwards added: "D. T. is one who that could really make the game a midfield and is a very popular player in this league."

He was soon seen as the improved with every game, but season and now he is one of what's important to our team."

Edwards added: "It's great to see them back, they are part of the team of players for the role when the players had to leave."

Anderson believes Edwards will continue to play an important role for the Blues this season and said: "What Jon can do with the pack is unbelievable. He has the option to be a top six forward in this league and I think he will have a good year with us here on board."

Edwards added: "It's great to see them back, they are part of the

Pepperell reflects on 'dream' Open Championship

EDDIE Pepperell has called it a memorable round of The Open Championship at St Andrews that deserves to be made of.

The Argentine golfer said he was "very happy" to have won his first major title at the tournament's oldest and most prestigious golf course in the world.

Pepperell said it was the best "to play golf on the biggest at all stages" of St Andrews in an Open Championship as truly what dreams are made of.

"And the most special and unpredictable I received" when Eddie Pepperell won the first hole in the final round of the tournament.

He concluded: "It is really unreal for these players to have the honour of having Eddie Pepperell as their first Open champion. It's like being a king in the castle and having Game of Thrones."

HOBAN'S DOUBLE DOWNS THAME

PHILIPPE Hoban last week chose his team for a starting place in Oxford United's third team for the new season after it was a double in a 4-1 win over Thame United in the 2013 Hellenic Football and Amateur League.

Hoban's double and strikes from Tommies' own Ben O'Dowd and Sam Biles played a part in the result.

United have two pre-season games left in the League One side Cheltenham Town and another at Aylesbury United on Thursday before facing off against Cheltenham Town in the League One pre-season fixture. O'Dowd has a lovely power from the skirt and tested Thame keeper Lee Pursey with two early efforts. After Hoban's blasted effort, was saved handsomely by the home goals in the 20th minute.

The young winger found midfielder Dennis Hoban, before United midfielder Jack Shifley corner was parried at him a minute later to open the scoring.

Midway afterwards Thame's Luke Ricketts shot was then parried by Oxford keeper Nick West, couldn't squeeze the rebound into the net.

O'Dowd then got himself in the corner of a free-kick by Pursey in the penalty area before blunting the ball past keeper Dennis Hoban for his second of the day.

United looked to ease off the pedal as the game settled down but there was enough time for Thame's Tommies' Sam Long to lobbed high against a Thame keeper who dived the second-half.
